SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1906.

THE characteristic meteorological features of the month under report stand in some contrast to those of the corresponding month of last year. We have to chronicle generally deficient rainfall and temperature generally about normal against the abnormal cold and excessive rainfall recorded for April of 1905.

At the end of March a shallow low pressure area existed to the east of the United Provinces. This moved in an easterly direction and gave rise to light general rain over the Province on the first two days of the month. The area of lowest pressure remained with slight variations of position to the north-west of the Province up to the 6th of the month, when it deepened somewhat, and, moving in an easterly direction, gave rise to scattered showers in Assam, Lower Bengal, and some cloud over the north and east of the Province. The shallow low pressure area then increased in extent and covered the whole of Bengal, where the pressure became uniform. During the 10th and 11th of the month a shallow low pressure area developed over the Bhagalpur Division, giving rise to a marked cyclonic distribution of winds over Bengal, but causing no rain in the area to which this report is limited. This low pressure area moved to the south-west, and a temporary rise of pressure ensued over the Province. The temperature, which up to this time had been generally below normal, now commenced to rise and remained above normal for the rest of the month over practically the whole Province. The latter half of the month presented the usual broad features of pressure distribution, viz., low pressure to the north-west of the Province, giving an easterly tendency to winds in the north of the Province and a moderately steep gradient over the north-west angle of the Bay, giving rise to south-westerly winds in Lower Bengal and Orissa. Broadly speaking, the pressure variations throughout the month have been small and unimportant and the barometric oscillations recorded below rarely exceeded in amplitude those that may be usually expected in fine and settled weather. The conditions were at no time very favourable to any indraught of moist air from the Bay, and as a consequence the rainfall over the Province was slight.

Summary of Pressure.—On the first day of the month the pressure was below normal by small amounts over Bihar and Orissa and above normal over the rest of the Province. On the second the barometer commenced to fall, and the pressure sank below normal everywhere. It commenced then to rise slowly, leaving the pressure over the north of the Province somewhat in excess till the 5th of the month At this point the barometer sunk rapidly, causing pressure to remain in defect till the 9th of the month, when a slow rise brought pressure again into excess over Orissa, Chota Nagpur and the Central Provinces on the 11th. On the 12th of the month a rapid fall over the north-east of the Province and a slow fall over the remainder of the area left pressure again generally in defect by varying amounts which reached as much as ·15 of an inch in Assam and North Bengal. On the 14th of the month a rapid rise of the barometer occurred, followed shortly by a general fall, leaving the pressure over the whole area in defect till the 21st, when a gradual rise of the barometer commencing on the 19th brought pressure again into excess over the whole Province except Bihar and North Bengal. This excess was not long maintained, as pressure was again generally below normal on the 24th. After slight fluctuations, the barometer rose slowly on the 28th, and at the end of the month pressure was again in excess, except over a narrow strip to the north of the Province.

Summary of Temperature.—Mean temperature has been in general excess by small amounts throughout the greater part of the month. The average mean of the month exceeded the normal mean in all parts of the area under report except in Assam, where the mean was slightly below normal. The highest temperatures recorded were 111·6 at Bankura, 111·2 at Angul, and 110·9 at Chaibassa.

Summary of Rainfall.—Rainfall was in defect in every Division in the Province. On the 1st and 2nd of the month light showers fell over the whole area. From the 3rd to the 5th of the month rain was reported only from Puri and Darjeeling districts and from Tibet. On the 6th of the month rain fell at isolated stations in Howrah, Khulna, Balasore, Purnea and Darjeeling districts and in Tibet, the amount recorded being, however, trivial in most cases. From the 7th till the end of the month rainfall practically ceased except in Orissa, where a few showers were reported at the end of the month; in the Darjeeling district rain fell at various stations during the first three weeks, and in Yatung, where light rain occurred with more regularity throughout the month.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, d from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the ermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the ew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet ove the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the rveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in e Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 urs preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

There are some small buoys for local use only which do not appear on the chart, but all buoys in this port are coloured on a uniform system, the port-hand buoys being black and the starboard-hand buoys red when entering. The buoys are painted frequently, but, owing to the number of sea birds perching on them, often present a white top.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 16th May 1906.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 9533, dated 30th March 1906, from the Vice-Chairman of the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta, forwarding the Budget Estimate of the Howrah Bridge for the year 1906-07.

Receipts.

The receipts for the year 1906-07 have been estimated at Rs. 2,03,594 against Rs. 1,88,594 of the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 15,000. This is due to an expected increase in the receipts from Railway Traffic.

Expenditure.

2. The expenditure has been estimated at Rs. 1,92,772 against Rs. 1,87,407 of the last year. The increase in expenditure is chiefly under the head of "Maintenance and Repairs."

3. As the net result, there is an estimated surplus of Rs. 10,822 against Rs. 1,185 in the preceding year.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the estimate under section 21 of Act IX (B.C.) of 1871.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Secretary.

RESOLUTION ON THE TRIENNIAL REPORT ON THE LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEARS 1903, 1904 AND 1905.

RESOLUTION No 694T.—M.

The Annual Returns of the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal for 1903 and 1904 and the Resolutions recorded thereon by Government.

This is the second Triennial Report on the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal, and it has been submitted to Government by the prescribed date.

2. The three years which have elapsed since the submission of the last Triennial Report were marked by the conception and progress of the scheme for the establishment at Ranchi of a large Central Asylum. It was originally intended that the proposed Central Asylum should be established at Berhampore, and the construction of new buildings was taken in hand there, but the proposal was abandoned and it was decided, with the previous approval of the Government of India, to make over the asylum buildings at Berhampore to the Jail Department, which was prepared to utilise them as a Central Jail, and to proceed with the construction of the new Central Asylum at Ranchi. Land has already been acquired at Ranchi, and the plans and estimates of the buildings to be erected are now under the consideration of Government. The Central Asylum will be under the management and supervision of an expert alienist as Superintendent, and the Government of India have been asked to depute an officer possessing the necessary qualifications. Meanwhile, pending the construction of the buildings at Ranchi, all the asylums in the Province are as far as possible being amalgamated at Berhampore, where the enlarged buildings afford increased accommodation, and the lunatics at the Dullunda and Cuttack Asylums have already been transferred to that asylum. The buildings at Dullunda have been utilised for the Form Stores of this Government, and those at Cuttack will be made over to the Jail Department for the extension of the Jail. It was also intended that the lunatics from the Patna Asylum should be transferred to Berhampore, but the existing buildings were not sufficient for their accommodation, and in view of the approaching transfer of the Central Asylum to Ranchi it was considered unnecessary to incur additional expenditure in erecting buildings for their accommodation. As the result of the formation of the new Province, the Asylum at Dacca was brought under the control of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Eastern Bengal and Assam, from the 16th October 1905, and the Report under review therefore deals with the statistics of four asylums only.

In connection with the proposal to locate the new Central Asylum at Ranchi, it has been suggested that a Central Asylum for the reception of the European lunatics of Northern India should also be established there. The Government of India have consulted the other Local Governments concerned on this proposal, and the matter is still under consideration.

3. The Inspector-General again draws attention to the fact that there is an evident tendency for the asylum population to increase, the admissions growing in number year by year, while discharges remain more or less stationary; and he compares this with the experience of British asylums, where it is found that the number of pauper insanes under detention is increasing at an alarming rate. He considers that this is due mainly to two causes, firstly, the greater confidence now felt in these institutions, and secondly, the fact that the public generally are becoming more unwilling to support incapable relatives. It is improbable, however, that the second cause noticed by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals has actually produced much effect upon the figures, as the non-criminal lunatics admitted to asylums in Bengal are in most cases sent up by the Police and are usually destitute and without friends or relatives. In 1904 the number of admissions was 228, the largest number admitted in any year. The drop to 195 in 1905 is chiefly due to the transfer of certain districts to the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

4. The number of daily average sick in the asylums rose from 36·76 in 1902 to 70·01 in 1905. the daily average for the intervening years being 41·92 and 54·53. The marked increase in 1905 is reported to have been chiefly confined to the Berhampore Asylum, where fevers and phthisis were common; but many of the admissions were apparently due to trivial complaints, and the increase does not demand special attention. The average death-rate in the asylums dealt with in this review during the triennium was 103 per mille against 86 in the previous triennium, but it is satisfactory to find that the death-rate of 116 per mille in 1903 fell to 100 in 1904 and declined still further to 91 in 1905: the chief causes were tuberculosis, dysentery and diarrhœa. As the Inspector-General points out, the mortality rate for the Bengal asylums in 1905 compares favourably with that recorded for the county and borough asylums in England, where the average of the ten years 1895—1904 was 101 per mille. The average death-rate of the Bengal asylums during the 10 years ending in 1903 was only 93 per mille.

5. The percentage of cases admitted into the lunatic asylums in which the causes of insanity were not ascertained is still very high, being 61·47 in 1903, 50·19 in 1904 and 55·25 in 1905, or an average of 55·63 against 59·28 in the last triennium. This subject was discussed by the Lieutenant-Governor in the Resolution on the last Triennial Report, and the hope was expressed that a careful compliance with the standing orders of Government regarding the preparation of the medical history sheets of lunatics committed to asylums would produce better results. This expectation has not been realised, and Colonel Macrae reports that it was found, while inspecting the Patna Asylum last year, that a considerable proportion of the medical history sheets gave very little information regarding the previous history of the lunatics. The successful treatment of lunacy depends to a very great extent upon a thorough and exact knowledge of the history and circumstances of each case, and the Lieutenant-Governor must again insist that due attention should be paid both by the committing Magistrate and the observing medical officer to this important duty.

6. The expenditure on all the asylums averaged Rs. 1,09,742 a year, and the average annual income from paying patients was Rs. 14,191, while the net receipts from manufactures averaged Rs. 3,728. The mean cost for European lunatics was Rs. 376 and for native lunatics Rs. 106. The average cost per lunatic on account of diet fell from Rs. 49-7-5 in 1903 to Rs. 47-10-9 in 1905.

7. The thanks of Government are due to Colonel Macrae for his report, and His Honour accepts with satisfaction his opinion that the asylums were well managed during the three years covered by the Report.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE OILSEED CROPS OF BENGAL, 1905-1906.

THE following note is published for general information.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE OILSEED CROPS OF BENGAL, 1905-1906.

[On an average of the five years ending 1903-1904 the areas under linseed, rape and mustard and til in the territory to which this forecast relates have represented some 29·7, 22·4, and 6·2 per cent., respectively, of the total area under these crops in British India.]

Explanatory.—This forecast furnishes final estimates of area and outturn of different kinds of oilseeds, both bhadvi and rabi, grown in Bengal as now constituted, that is including Sambalpur and excluding the fourteen districts recently transferred to the New Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam. Of the varions oilseeds, mustard and rape make up about a third of the total, and linseed makes up almost as much, ginjelly or til (bhadvi and rabi) castor, and other oilseeds amounting to the remaining third of the whole. More than half the total quantity of linseed is grown in the Patna Division, while for rape and mustard the most important districts are Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Bhagalpur, Darbhanga, and Khulna. Ginjelly is chiefly grown in Sambalpur, Midnapore, Jessore, and Angul.

2. Character of the season.—The linseed and mustard crops suffered to some extent from want of moisture at the time of sowing, but they suffered still more severely from untimely rain in January and February.

3. Area sown.—The total normal area under the different kinds of oilseeds in the Province is estimated as 2,400,600 acres. The area actually sown this year is 2,200,100 acres against 2,243,600 acres sown last year.

4. Outturn.—As will appear from the appendix only Balasore, a very unimportant district so far as oilseeds go, reports a normal outturn. Only one other district, viz., Sambalpur, reports an outturn of 90 per cent. Seven districts (including Saran, Muzaffarpur, and Darbhanga) report between 80 and 89 per cent.; eight districts (including Purnea, Monghyr, Champaran, and Gaya) report between 70 and 79 per cent.; six districts (including Bhagalpur) report between 60 and 69 per cent.; while the remaining ten districts (including the Sonthal Parganas and Nadia) report less, viz., from 34 to 59 per cent.

Since the publication of the preliminary forecast, prospects have improved only in one district, namely Saran; they remained stationary in eight districts and deteriorated in the remaining twenty-four districts.

According to the district estimates of the different kinds of oilseed crops, the outturn of the Province, as a whole, amounts to 69 per cent. of a normal crop against 80 per cent. shown in the preliminary forecast. The outturn last year was 68 per cent.

Taking 6 maunds per acre to be the normal rate of outturn for linseed, rape and mustard, and $4\frac{1}{4}$ maunds per acre for other oilseeds, the gross yield for all oilseed crops for these Provinces during 1905-1906 would amount to 304,700 tons against 301,700 tons estimated to have been produced in the preceding year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE WHEAT CROP OF BENGAL, 1905-1906.

[On an average of five years ending 1903-1904 the area under wheat in the territory to which this forecast relates has represented some 6·2 per cent. of the total area under wheat in British India.

The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage (a) in British India, and (b) in the territory now reported on, has in the five years ending 1903-1904, averaged (a) 41·5 per cent. and (b) 2·2 per cent., respectively.]

Preliminary.—The present forecast relates to the Province of Bengal as it stands at present, that is, it excludes the 14 districts recently transferred to the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam, while it includes Sambalpur which has been added to this Province from the Central Provinces. But, as already explained in the preliminary forecast, neither Sambalpur nor most of the districts transferred to the new Province grow much wheat, and the wheat area of the Province remains therefore practically unchanged. As a matter of fact, the crop is grown chiefly in Bihar, i.e., the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions, the principal districts in the order of their importance being Bhagalpur, Gaya, Monghyr, Patna, and Shahabad. Outside Bihar the only other important districts are Murshidabad and Nadia. There is practically no wheat in Orissa.

2. Character of the season.—In spite of the want of rain at the sowing season in October, the crop promised fairly well. But in February the weather was quite exceptional, there being heavy and continuous rain accompanied by cloudy weather and in places by hail-storms which caused serious damage. The rainfall in Bihar during that month was over four times the normal. On the whole the season was very disappointing.

Area sown.—The total normal area under wheat in the Province now stands at 1,350,500 acres. The actual area sown this year is estimated at 1,259,000 acres, against 1,324,900 acres sown last year.

Outturn.—Only one district, viz., Purnea, reports a normal crop, while one other, viz., Saran, reports an outturn of 90 per cent. Five districts estimate between 80 to 89 per cent.

Twelve districts, including most of the important wheat-producing districts of Bihar, report between 70 to 79 per cent. Two districts report between 60 to 69, six districts between 50 to 59, while of the remaining two, Ranchi reports only 45 per cent. and Nadia only 34 per cent.

Since the publication of the preliminary forecast at the end of January, the prospects have improved in two districts, have been stationary in five, and have more or less deteriorated in 21 districts.

The estimate for the entire Province according to the revised outturns of the District Officers as now submitted comes to 74 per cent. against 83 per cent. shown in the preliminary forecast. The estimated outturn in 1904-1905 was 76 per cent; or, in other words, the yield is expected to be 400,000 tons this year as compared with 433,200 tons in 1904-1905.

Food-stocks and the Prices of food-grains.—The estimated outturns of the bhadoi, winter rice and rabi crops during the year were 72, 88, and 75 per cent. of the normal, not much better than in the previous year. The stock of food-grains is reported from most districts as not plentiful and the prices ruled higher than usual almost everywhere in the Province. The stock in hand, however, appears to be sufficient for the requirements of the people.

Imports of wheat into Calcutta.—From the Statistics of wheat trade quoted in the margin, it will be seem that there was a slight falling off in the imports into Calcutta as compared with the preceding year. The figures represent imports into Calcutta from the districts of Bengal including the transferred districts.

Imports of wheat into Calcutta from 1896 to 1905.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; p, passing showers; t, thunder; ≤, lightning; d, drizzling rain.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in July. The examination will be conducted either at the College, or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or birth) not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ.

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application through his immediate official superior, to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal, for registration, the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of application of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

7. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9. Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination, at the Sibpur College centre only, but, even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College, not later than 30 days previous to the examination; the application to be accompanied by the fee of Rupees ten.

The buoys are painted frequently, but, owing to the number of sea birds perching on them, often present a white top.

Dated Darjeeling, the 22nd May 1906.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Jail Department for the year 1905.

The Reports for the years 1903 and 1904 and the Resolutions of Government recorded thereon.

The report under review has been submitted by Major W. J. Buchanan, I.M.S., who has been in charge of the Department throughout the year. The statistics of 14 district and 25 subsidiary jails transferred to the new province of Eastern Bengal and Assam have been omitted from the report, while those of the Sambalpur Jail have been included. For the purposes of comparison, however, the Inspector-General has compiled statistics for 1904 relating to the 35 jails and 67 subsidiary jails of the reconstituted province of Bengal.

2. The total prison population of Bengal, which was 14,448 at the beginning of the year, amounted to 14,872 at its end. The daily average population was 14,934 against 14,797 in 1904: the male population which passed through the jails increased, while the number of females decreased. The daily average population of both sexes, however, shows an increase over the previous year.

3. After some years of steady decline in the death-rate calculated on the daily average numbers of all classes of prisoners, the Inspector-General of Prisons had last year the satisfaction of reporting the lowest figure on record. The death-rate has, however, risen from 19·5 in 1904 to 25·3 per mille in the year under review, while the rate calculated on the daily average convict population of all jails has risen from 20·0 to 24·7 per mille. In 1904 the rate exceeded 40 per mille only in the Balasore Jail. It is satisfactory to note that under a new Superintendent, and with new methods, the mortality in that jail has fallen from 79·7 to 24·6 per mille. In the past year the death-rate has exceeded 40 per mille in four jails. In Burdwan it has risen from 9·4 per mille in 1904 to 43·3 per mille in 1905. The increase is attributed in part to the general unhealthiness of the year and to severe floods, which covered the jail garden and rose high within the jail walls. But the principal cause undoubtedly was the persistent overcrowding, in consequence of which a great number of young and healthy prisoners was transferred to other jails, and the remaining population consisted largely of old and feeble men unfit for transfer. In Purulia the mortality was 46·6 per mille. The main barrack is reported to be radically defective, and the Inspector-General will, if necessary, submit proposals for the construction of a new one. In Chaibassa the high rate of 44·1 per mille was largely accidental; there were six deaths among a small population. Finally, there is the case of the Midnapore Jail with a mortality among the convict population of 45 per mille. The death-rate of this jail is always considerably above the average for the province. For the three years ending with 1905 it was 37 per mille per annum Successive Medical Officers have noted the fact that a large proportion of the prisoners admitted are in bad health. In 1905 no less than 38 per cent of the prisoners admitted were classed as in bad or weakly health. The Inspector-General is also of opinion that there are serious defects in the construction of the barracks. His proposal to raise the roofs and provide ridge ventilation has been generally approved by the Local Government, and plans and estimates are awaited.

4. The Inspector-General again calls attention to the general prevalence of tuberculosis throughout the province. During 1905, 240 prisoners suffering from this disease were admitted to hospital and 59 deaths took place. Cases occurred in 28 out of the 35 jails in the province. In the Alipore Jail alone 71 cases were admitted to hospital, and 35 cases in the Midnapore Jail. Last year the Inspector-General reported that, after studying the latest literature on the subject, he was convinced that it was useless to attempt any scheme of isolation for curative purposes, unless it were carried out in a very liberal and very thorough manner. He suggested, however, that a special jail might be set apart for the reception of such cases to safeguard other prisoners from danger of infection. At that time he was unable to specify any jail which could be so set apart Major Buchanan now suggests that when the Asylum at Berhampore is taken over for use as a second-class Central Jail, it might be possible to use the present jail for the reception of prisoners suffering from tuberculosis. Though Berhampore is not an ideal place for the treatment of such cases, no accommodation is likely to be available elsewhere, and the immunity of other prisoners from infection would at least be secured. If the Inspector-General decides to submit a scheme to the Government, it will receive due consideration.

5. It appears that there was overcrowding in 16 jails and in the under-trial wards of 9 jails. In the case of the latter, however, the difficulty was surmounted by providing a separate convict ward for the accommodation of under-trial prisoners. The excess convict population was dealt with by transfers to other jails and by utilising work-sheds and verandahs as dormitories. The increased difficulty of providing accommodation owing to the better classification and separation of the prisoners is recognized. It is satisfactory to note that a great deal has been done towards providing segregation wards and enclosures for new convicts.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that the year has been one of progress in the matter of buildings, and that many necessary works have been completed or undertaken. A sum of Rs. 5,31,000 was allotted for the new Presidency Jail, the construction of which is proceeding rapidly. Out of a lump sum of Rs. 1,50,000, Rs. 87,349 were distributed for the building of two new subsidiary jails and other jail works in this province. In addition to these grants, sums amounting to Rs. 1,01,364 were provided for segregation wards at Arrah, Gaya, and Monghyr and for various improvements in other jails.

7. The total profits on manufactures in all jails amounted to Rs. 5,30,163-3, against Rs. 5,57,938-12 in 1904. The total cash profit amounted to Rs. 3,35,506 as against Rs. 4,59,458 in 1904. The net earnings per convict in Central Jails were highest in the Presidency Jail, where they averaged Rs. 132-13 and lowest in Hazaribagh, with Rs. 30-2 per convict. It appears that the decrease in profits is to a considerable extent due to the increase in the price of raw materials. In the Alipore Central Jail, for instance, the profits were Rs. 69,749-6 as against Rs. 1,11,715-3 in 1904, and this is attributed to the fact that the price for manufactured gunny-bags did not advance sufficiently to compensate for the increase in the price of raw materials. This explanation applies equally to the Buxar Central Jail, where the net profits decreased from Rs. 1,12,142 in 1904 to Rs. 89,836 in 1905.

8. The total number of offences committed by convicts was 26,416 against 25,595 in 1904, while the punishments inflicted by Superintendents numbered 26,606 as against 25,742. Three thousand three hundred and twelve major punishments were imposed. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that corporal punishments, which had increased considerably in 1904, have decreased from 182 to 145. Six convicts escaped during the year—3 from inside and 3 from outside the jails. All were recaptured, as were also 4 convicts who had escaped in previous years. In 1904 there were 5 escapes, while the average for the last nine years was 14. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Inspector-General of Prisons that these figures are satisfactory.

9. In the report for 1904 a fuller discussion on the subject of the conduct of casual and habitual offenders was promised. Statistics for the past year have been collected by the Inspector-General. The daily average number of A class prisoners was 6,808 and of B class prisoners, 6,514. Yet it appears that 14,269 offences out of a total of 26,357 jail offences, or more than 54 per cent, were committed by B class prisoners. The figures also show that a relatively greater proportion of the more serious offences is committed by habitual offenders. Twelve thousand two hundred and eighty-eight, or 52 88 per cent. of the total number of minor punishments, and 2,110, or 63 per cent. of the major punishments, were inflicted on B class prisoners. Of the 145 corporal punishments inflicted, 73 per cent. were awarded to habitual offenders. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that these figures emphasize the recognized necessity of separating the two classes of offenders, and is pleased to find that such separation is now possible in most prisons.

10. One thousand two hundred and eighty punishments were inflicted on warders during the year. Eighty-two warders resigned and three deserted. The Inspector-General remarks that considerable discontent prevails among the warders owing to the increase of pay granted to the police and to the illiberal nature of the sick leave rules. The report which he promises on the question of improving their pay and prospects is awaited by the Government.

11. The average period of detention of under-trial prisoners was 17·5 days in jails and 14 7 days in subsidiary jails. These figures differ little from the figures for 1904. Among the jails the average period was highest in the Purnea Jail, viz 27·11 days. Hooghly and Arrah come next with 27·05 and 23·15 days respectively. The lowest figure is reported from the Suri Jail, where the average period was only 9·8 days. In the Madhipura subsidiary jail in the district of Bhagalpur the average period of detention was 29·27 days.

12. The Superintendents of the subsidiary jails at Dinapore and Patna City will be asked to explain why they failed to pay the prescribed number of visits.

13. The names of the officers specially commended by the Inspector-General have been noted. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to congratulate Major Buchanan upon his able and successful administration of the Department during the past year and upon the good results which he has secured.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Prisons for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution and a copy of the Report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

		15,00,000
ESTIMATED SURPLUS ...	...	1,48,067

5. In each of the past four years reductions have been made in port charges on vessels and goods which in round numbers amount in the aggregate to about Rs. 9 lakhs per annum. This year the Commissioners do not propose any reduction, as although the revenue is expanding and there is an estimated surplus of Rs. 1,48,000, this is but a narrow margin, having regard to the fluctuations of trade, where the operations are so large. Besides, large additions are being made to the Capital debt on account of new works, and although they are nearly all of a remunerative character, it will take some time before they come into use.

6. Excluding the provision made for interest and sinking fund charges, the estimated expenditure aggregates to Rs. 59,21,403 as compared with Rs. 54,51,361 provided in the estimate of the last year. An abstract comparing the estimates of the two years is given below :—

	Estimate, 1906-07.	Estimate, 1905-06.

Deduct chargeable to Capital account	1,07,800	46,629
	59,21,403	54,51,361

7. There is an increase of expenditure under all heads which is fairly to be attributed to the expansion of the work of the Trust.

8. In pursuance of the powers vested in him by section 71 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, the Lieutenant-Governor approves of the estimate of the income and expenditure of the Commissioners for the year 1906-1907.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. A. INGLIS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1905-1906.

No. 707T.—M., dated Darjeeling, the 24th May 1906.

From—H. J. McIntosh, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Municipal Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agriculture Dept.

I AM directed to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a copy of the Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1905-06.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that Captain Gage, I.M.S., and his subordinates deserve credit for the good work which has been done during the year, and an expression of his acknowledgments has been conveyed to them.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1905-06.

DURING the year weather conditions were normal, except for the unusual rainfall in February 1906, which, however, did not appreciably affect the garden. The principal outdoor works were the continued improvement of the nursery; the re-making of the Scott avenue leading from the riverside avenue to the Banyan avenue; the relaying of the paths around the Herbarium and Cinchona office; the erection of a stone parapet to the bridge on the Jacquemont Path, to replace the old tile parapet which had fallen into a ruinous condition, and the re-alignment of the path between the bridge and the Banyan avenue; the renovation by the Public Works Department of the two shelter-pavilions, and the complete renewal of the roof of the smaller one; the improvement of the Howrah gate entrance to the garden, and the re-planting of the large palm house. A minor improvement is the erection of a notice board at each entrance to the garden, which shows by means of a simple arrangement for changing the figures, the hour of closing of the garden on any given day.

2. Economic work.—'Sunn' hemp (Crotalaria juncea)—seed of which was obtained from all parts of India where it is grown—was again cultivated in small plots. It was thought that by sowing fairly late towards the end of October, better results than those of last year might be obtained. As it turned out the result was the reverse of what was expected. Almost all the plants began to flower when little more than a foot high, and they obstinately declined to grow much higher. On two occasions every plot was flattened out by heavy rain, which did not tend to improve matters. As far as yield of fibre is concerned, no results which could be relied upon could be obtained from plants which behaved in such a manner. As the cultivation of 'Sunn' hemp is likely to prove of very considerable importance to India, it is proposed to continue plot-experiments until some definite results are obtained, or until the Agricultural Department can take up the experimental cultivation on a larger and more satisfactory scale than is possible on the very limited amount of ground available in the garden. Apart from the experimental side of economic work a considerable amount of useful work has been accomplished during the year in the distribution of economic plants by seed or otherwise throughout India and in their introduction into other countries. The space allotted to this report permits mention of only a few illustrative instances. In India there has been a revival of interest in rubber, and not a few applicants have been furnished with information and seed or plants of Ficus elastica and Manihot Glaziovii. The latter, which yields Ceara rubber, appears to thrive in Bengal and Assam, but it is doubtful whether it yields rubber equal to that obtained from the same species cultivated in Southern India and Ceylon. Camphor-seed has been supplied to certain parties. Sisal hemp plants have been distributed to certain jails, and lime seeds as usual to many of the jails in Bengal. Seeds of timber and other useful trees have been largely distributed over India and to other tropical or semi-tropical countries. Outside of India seeds of the species of Aeschynomene which furnish 'Sola' pith were supplied to the Jardin Colonial of Paris; collections of economic bamboos and of seeds of useful Indian trees were distributed to the Hon'ble Mr Joseph Baynes, C M G, and Mr. Charles Hitchins of Natal,—who had both personally visited the garden last year—for attempted acclimatization in South Africa; deodar seed was supplied to the Transvaal Landowners' Association, and jute seed to the Government of German New Guinea; seed of 'Sunn' hemp was distributed to the United States Agricultural Department in the Philippines, and Indigo seed to the Dutch Agricultural Department in Java, and to a correspondent in the Ile de la Reunion; tea-seed was sent to the Agricultural Association of the Island of Sicily. The economic additions to the garden include Caravonica cotton; a collection of grasses from the Transvaal Agricultural Department; a similar collection from the United States Department of Agriculture; and a collection of economic plant seeds from the Estacion Agronomica of Havana.

3. Herbarium.—Since July 1905, owing to unavoidable circumstances, there has been no Curator of the Herbarium. Consequently work has suffered to a considerable extent, as the multitarious duties of the Officiating Superintendent during the past year have allowed him exceedingly little time for botanical work. However a decided improvement has been effected in the completion of the scheme of renewal of the cabinets on the ground floor of the building, referred to in last year's report, and the facilities for consulting the collection are now vastly superior to what they were two years ago. During a considerable part of the year the Herbarium was utilised by, and all help accorded to, Mr. A Meebold, a German botanist, in studying his large collection of specimens gathered on behalf of the University of Breslau during a tour through India and Burma. The same gentleman made a tour on behalf of the Botanical Survey up the Bramahputra valley and across the central mountain mass of Assam vid Kohima and Manipur, thence down the Surma valley to Silchar. In Burma as there was no European botanist available, a native collector was sent to the district of Pakokku, in order to extend the survey which had been done in the district of Minbu just to the south. In Bengal collections of specimens of special orders continued to be made by the men working under the Revd. Father Cardon, S.J, in Chota Nagpur. A collector was sent to Pusa by permission of the Director of the Agricultural Research Institute there, to collect the interesting flora of the still wild parts of the estate. The Officiating Superintendent collected on the Government Cinchona Plantation and the surrounding district, with the view of beginning the formation of two representative herbaria of the flora of the Darjeeling district, one to be placed in the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling, where the present collection is by no means satisfactory, the other in the Superintendent's house on the Cinchona Plantation where it would be available for consultation by official or other visitors to the plantation. The number of specimens received in the Herbarium from India and from other countries amounted to 6,882. The specimens distributed to other Herbaria were about 7,000. A beginning has been made with the formation of a card-index of orders, genera, and species in the Herbarium numbered according to Bentham and Hooker's Genera Plantarum and Hooker's Flora of British India to facilitate direct reference to the Herbarium shelves.

4. Laboratory and Museum.—With the scientific staff of the Garden for the greater part of the year reduced to one officer, whose time was very largely taken up with purely administrative work, there naturally could be but little done in either Laboratory or Museum. However, a considerable number of specimens for the Museum have been collected for mounting when time is available A commencement also has been made with a photographic survey of the Garden. It is proposed to systematically photograph the whole Garden, and specially interesting individual trees, and to register the actual area taken in by, and the point of view of, every photograph on skeleton maps of the Garden, divided up into lettered and numbered squares.

5. Library.—Owing to the Curatorship of the Herbarium being vacant for the greater part of the year, not so much progress as would be desirable has been made in Library work. It has not stood still however. The usual number of accessions was registered The Index of new species of plants, which is published monthly by the Herbier Boissier in Switzerland, in the form of small oblong slips has been converted into an excellent card-catalogue by pasting the slips as published on to the regular size of cards and arranging the latter in specially made cabinets.

6 Publications.—During the year there were issued:—Annals of the Royal Botanical Garden, Calcutta, Vol. X, Part II, The Aconites of India, a Monograph with 27 plates by Dr. O. Stapf, of the Kew Herbarium.

Records of the Botanical Survey of India, Vol IV, No. 2, An Epitome of the British Indian Species of Impatiens, Part II, by Sir J. D. Hooker.

Non-official publications include:—Materials for the Flora of the Malayan Peninsula, Parts XVI, XVII, XVIII, by Sir George King and Mr J. S. Gamble, C.I.E. in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal ; Munsoniæ, a new Tribe of the Natural Order Sterculiaceæ, by Lieut.-Colonel Prain, contributed to the Journal of the Linnean Society. The Officiating Superintendent has contributed several short papers descriptive of new species to the Journal of the Asiatic Society and the Indian Forester.

7. Interchange of seeds and plants.—During the year 2,181 packets of seeds were distributed and 1,163 received, while the number of plants sent out reached 53,281 and the number received amounted to 2,292. The seeds and plants of economic importance have already been referred to as far as space permits under "Economic work." The number of plants sent out is the largest for many years, and includes over 17,000 for Dalhousie Square and the Esplanade in Calcutta.

8. Lloyd Botanic Garden.—The condition of this Garden was satisfactory throughout the year. The Curator and the Lepcha collectors visited the high levels to collect Sikkim plant seeds for distribution to the botanical and horticultural institutions of Europe and America.

9. Visitors.—During the year the Garden has been visited at various times by the officers of the Imperial Agricultural Department and of the Agricultural Department of the Bombay Government; the Reporter on Economic Products to the Government of India; the Economic Botanist to the Government of Madras and others, who also freely consulted the Herbarium and Library. Towards the end of the year the Garden had a distinguished visitor in the person of Dr. A. Engler, the Director of the Imperial Botanic Garden of Berlin who spent a few days in the Garden and also on the Cinchona Plantation, along with the Officiating Superintendent.

* * * * *

11. Financial.—The allotments for contingencies for the Royal Botanic Garden were fully spent. The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

t, thunder; ≤, lightning; p, passing showers.

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

THE following Notices are published for general information.

W. A. INGLIS,
Secretary, Marine Department.

CALCUTTA, the 1st June 1906.

AUSTRALIA—VICTORIA.

Port Phillip, west channel—Submarine mining ground.

No. 190 (first publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 419 of 1906) that a submarine mining practice ground has been established on the eastern side of Swan island in the entrance to Port Phillip. It is bounded by the undermentioned imaginary lines:—

(b) On the east by a line drawn N. 4° E. from Swanspit buoy No. 3 to a small black buoy moored at a distance 5 cables N. 78° E. from the north-eastern extremity of Swan island.

(c) On the north by a line drawn approximately N. 87° W. from the black buoy mentioned above to the outer pile marking the channel to Swan island jetty. The position of this pile is not given, but it has been assumed to be on the southern side of the channel entrance.

(d) On the west by a line drawn south from the above-mentioned pile to the coast, and from that point the west coast of Swan island as far as Swan beacon.

Vessels are prohibited from entering this area, the limits of which have been inserted in the charts.

Approximate position, Swan beacon, lat. 38° 15¼′ S., long. 144° 41¾′ E.

(Variation 8° Easterly in 1906.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Port Phillip entrance, No. 2747; Port Phillip, west channel, No. 303: Also Australia Directory, vol. I, 1897; page 435; and Supplement, 1900, page 17.

PERSIAN GULF—BANDAR ABBAS.

Particulars of shoal in approach.

No. 191 (first publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 477, dated 9th December 1905, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 423 of 1906) that an examination of the shoal reported by the Master of the S.S.

Euphrates, in the approach to Bandar Abbas, shows it to have a depth of 2 fathoms over it situated in a position from which the north-western extremity of Hormuz island bears N. 25° E., distant about 3¼ miles, and the south-eastern extremity of the same island N. 83° E.

Approximate position, lat. 27° 1¼′ N., long. 56° 24¼′ E.

This patch, which has depths of 5 fathoms at distances of half a cable on its east, west and south sides, appeared to form part of a narrow ridge, composed of coral and sand, which connects it with the shoal water extending south-westward from Hormuz island.

(Variation Nil in 1906.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Persian Gulf entrance, No. 753; Persian Gulf, with plan of Kishm, No. 2837a: Also Persian Gulf Pilot, 1898, page 206; and Supplement, 1905, page 22.

CHINA, EAST COAST—Yung river.

No. 192 (first publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 428 of 1906) that the local pilots report that the outer limit of the bank adjoining the coast between Sei Yuen fort and Wang Yuen fort, Yung river entrance, is extending to the northward, the depth on it being about 8 feet; the channel to the southward of Sesostris rock is consequently not now used.

Approximate position, Wang Yuen, fort, lat. 29° 58¼′ N, long. 121° 44¾′ E.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

d, drizzling rain; ≤, lightning; ∂, dust-storm.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Dated Singapore, the 20th April 1906.

From—E. L. BROCKMAN, Esq., Acting Colonial Secretary, Straits Settlements,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

I AM directed by the Officer administering the Government, Straits Settlements, to forward herewith, for your information, copies of an Act to prevent the landing and leaving of decrepit beggars at the ports of this Colony as recently amended.

2. The Act, it will be seen, imposes on the master or consignee of any vessel bringing such persons to the Colony the liability of either reconveying them to their port of embarkation or paying to this Government the costs that are incurred by the Colony for their maintenance and removal, and also renders the master liable to a fine in the event of their being landed without the leave of the Chief Police Officer.

3 Masters and owners of vessels conveying passengers to the Colony should therefore take precautions against accepting as passengers any persons not natives of the Colony or Federated Malay States who may reasonably be suspected of belonging to any of the classes of persons described in section 1 of the Act, for whose landing in this Colony the consent of this Government has not previously been obtained.

4 I am to request that you will be good enough to cause the provisions of this Act to be known as widely as possible.

The List of Special Jurors shall contain the names of forty, and the list of Common Jurors the names of eighty persons of those respectively included in the list of Special and Common Jurors. The lists shall be respectively called 'The Special Jurors' List' and 'The Common Jurors' List' for the particular Lists of Special and Common Jurors to be summoned for each Session, when and by whom to be prepared, and number of names to be contained therein.

Session, designating it by the date on which it is to commence, and shall be prepared as follows :—

List of Special Jurors how prepared

(1) The names of all persons, if any, ordered to be entered in the list of Special Jurors for such Session under Rule VIII, XI or XVI, shall be first entered in the said list, unless the Judge shall be satisfied as regards any one or more of such persons that he or they will be unable, from illness or other sufficient cause, to attend at such Session, in which case the name of such person may be set aside in the same manner as it might have been set aside under Rule VIII, if the name had been drawn by lot for such Session. The Judge shall then cause to be drawn by lot the names of such a number of persons qualified and liable to serve on Special Juries as, with those already on the list, will, subject to the provisions of these rules, make up the number of forty persons qualified and liable to serve on Special Juries, and the names of such forty persons shall be entered upon and form the list of Special Jurors liable to serve and to be summoned as Special Jurors for such Session.

List of Common Jurors how prepared

(2) In like manner the names of all persons, if any, ordered to be entered in the Common Jurors' List for such Session under Rule VIII, XI or XVI, shall be first entered in the said list, unless the Judge shall be satisfied as regards any of them that such person will be unable, from illness or other sufficient cause, to attend at such Session, in which case the name of such person may be set aside in the same manner as it might have been set aside under Rule VIII, if his name had been drawn by lot for that Session. The Judge shall then cause to be drawn by lot the names of such a number of persons qualified and liable to serve on Common Juries as, with the names already on the list, will, subject to the provisions of these rules, make up the number of eighty persons qualified and liable to serve on Common Juries, and the names of such eighty persons shall be entered upon and form the list of Common Jurors liable to serve and to be summoned as Common Jurors for such Session.

Mode of proceeding to draw the names of the Special and Common Jurors to be summoned.

VIII. The mode of proceeding to draw the names of such Special and Common Jurors, respectively, shall be as follows :—

The names of all the Jurors in the list of Special and Common Jurors, respectively, prepared by the Clerk of the Crown, shall be numbered consecutively. The number attached in the list of Special Jurors to the name of each Juror liable to be summoned as a Special Juror for the Session for which the list of Special Jurors is to be prepared, shall be written on a bone or ivory counter, the several counters being all, as nearly as may be, of equal size and shape, and such counters shall be put together by the Clerk of the Crown into a box, and, on the day to be fixed for drawing the names of the Jurors, the Clerk of the Crown shall, in open Court, draw, or cause to be drawn, the said counters one after the other, until the requisite number of Special Jurors shall be obtained. The Juror on the Special Jurors' List, whose number on such list shall correspond with the number drawn, shall, subject to the provision in these rules, be entered in the Special Jurors' List for the Session, and a number denoting the order in which the name of each Juror is so drawn shall be set against the name of such Juror in the Special Jury List for the Session.

A similar course, mutatis mutandis, shall be adopted in drawing the names of the Common Jurors.

Names of deceased person or persons not liable to serve or excused from service to be set aside.

Names of persons excused from service to be entered in list for future service.

The Judge may order the name of any person who has actually served as a Juror in the preceding year, and of any person known or believed to be dead, absent from Calcutta, or likely to be unable from illness or otherwise to attend, or known or believed not to be qualified or liable to serve as a Juror under these rules, to be set aside; and, in every such case, an additional name shall be drawn in lieu of that so set aside, and the Judge, if he think fit, may order the name of any person so set aside, except on account of death or disqualification, to be entered on the list of Special or Common Jurors, as the case may be, for any subsequent Session to be then fixed.

Order in which names to be arranged in lists with additions and places of abode.

IX. The names, additions and places of abode of the several persons included in such Special and Common Jurors' Lists for the Session, shall be written therein and numbered in the order in which they shall have been drawn, and such lists shall be signed by the Judge.

Copy of lists to be annexed to Precept to Sheriff to summon Special Jurors in numerical order.

X. A copy of such lists shall be annexed to a Precept to the Sheriff, commanding him to summon the first thirty-five on the list of Special Jurors and the first sixty-five on the list of Common Jurors, and in case he shall not be able to summon the whole of the first thirty-five or sixty-five, as the case may be, then to summon as many as shall be necessary to make up the full number of thirty-five or sixty-five of those in numerical order in such lists respectively next after the first thirty-five or sixty-five.

Name of Juror excused attending at one Session, on condition of his serving at a subsequent Session to be inserted in the list for such Session.

XI. Any person whose name is included in the Special or Common Jurors' List for any Session may apply to the Clerk of the Crown to cause him to be excused from attendance as a Juror, either generally or at the particular Session. Such application shall be made at least one week before the day fixed for the commencement of the Session, and shall specify the grounds upon which the application is made. The Clerk of the Crown shall, as soon as possible after the last day allowed for making such application, bring them before one of the Judges of the Court, and such Judge shall pass orders thereupon, which shall be communicated by the Clerk of the Crown to the respective applicants. If the Judge shall think fit to excuse any of the applicants from attendance at the particular Session, he may do so unconditionally, or on condition of his serving at the next or some subsequent Session to be fixed, and any such conditional order shall operate as an authority to the Clerk of the Crown to include the name of such person in the list for such subsequent Session under the provisions of Rule VI.

Jurors to be summoned ten days before the first day of the Session.

XII. Every person named in the lists mentioned in Rule IX shall forthwith, or as soon as possible after the receipt of the Precept by the Sheriff, be summoned by him to attend at the Session for which he shall have been appointed to serve as a Juror, and such summons shall be served at least ten days before the first day of the Session.

Service of summons or process by post.

XIII. A summons to a Juror who resides out of the limits of the Town of Calcutta, and to whom access at his office or place of business within such limits is denied to the Sheriff's Officer, as also all notices, orders, or other proceedings required to be served on him, shall, unless otherwise ordered, be addressed to him at his office or place of business aforesaid, or at his place of residence, and forwarded to him by post duly registered. The transmission by post as aforesaid of every such summons, or notice or of a copy, authenticated by the seal of the Court, of every such order or other proceeding, shall, unless good cause be shown to the contrary, be deemed sufficient service thereof.

Personally.

XIV. In all other cases every such summons, notice, order, or other proceeding, shall, unless otherwise ordered, be served on a Juror personally.

Sheriff to return Precept with two panels—one of Special Jurors, the other of Common Jurors, showing in tabular form names and particulars of service, and accounting for non-service.

XV. The Sheriff shall, as soon as possible after service of the summons, and not later than one week before the commencement of the Session, return the Precept to the Clerk of the Crown, with two panels annexed thereto—one of the Special Jurors and one of the Common Jurors, which panels shall show in a tabular form the names of the persons summoned and the particulars of service upon each; and if any person or persons named in the lists annexed to the Precept shall not have been served, the panel shall state that fact, and the reason why such person or persons has or have not been summoned: and in every case the reason why such service has not been effected shall be verified by the affidavit of the Officer whose duty it was to effect such service, and such affidavit shall be filed with the Clerk of the Crown, with the return to the Precept.

Sheriff's return to be immediately laid before a Judge for orders.

XVI. On the receipt of such return, the Clerk of the Crown shall, without delay, bring the same before one of the Judges of the Court. The said Judge may, if necessary, examine the Sheriff's Officer or Officers as to the truth of such return, and as to the circumstances of the service or of the absence of service on any person, and may direct service to be made upon the person or persons not already served in such manner as to him shall seem fit. The Judge, if he think fit, may cause the name of any person returned by the Sheriff as not summoned to be entered on the list of Jurors, either Special or Common, as the case may be, for any subsequent Session to be fixed by the Judge.

If sufficient number of Jurors not served, further names of Jurors to be drawn by lot, as provided by Rule VIII.

XVII. If the Judge shall be of opinion that the number of Jurors named in either of the said lists who shall have been served is not likely to be sufficient, he may cause to be drawn by lot, in the mode provided by Rule VIII, such further number of names as may be requisite not exceeding forty and eighty respectively.

Copy of Supplementary Lists to be annexed to additional Precept to Sheriff. Sheriff's return.

XVIII. Such lists shall be called the Supplemental Lists of Special or Common Jurors, as the case may be, and shall be prepared and signed in the manner hereinbefore provided with respect to the original lists, and copies thereof shall be sent to the Sheriff with an additional Precept, and the Sheriff shall, as soon as possible after the receipt of such additional Precept, cause the persons named therein to be summoned to attend at the Session, and shall return the Precept to the Court not later than one clear day before the first day of the Session, with a panel similar to that provided by Rule XV in respect of the original lists and Precept.

Jury how to be drawn and empanelled.

XIX. In order to nominate a Jury for the trial of any prisoner or other person to be tried by Jury, the Clerk of the Crown shall cause to be put together into one box cards or pieces of parchment containing the names of all the persons summoned to serve on the Common Jury for the Session, if the trial is to take place before a Common Jury, or on the Special Jury, if the trial is to take place before a Special Jury, except such of the said persons as shall have been excused by the Judge from serving on that day in consequence of his having served as a Juror on the previous day, or for any other cause. Such cards or pieces of parchment shall be, as nearly as may be, of equal size, and each shall bear the name of one person summoned to serve on the Jury for that Session. The Clerk of the Crown shall then in open Court draw or cause to be drawn out of the said box nine of the said cards or pieces of parchment, one after another; and if any of the Jurors whose name shall be so drawn shall not appear, then such further number shall be drawn until nine Jurors shall appear. The prisoner or person to be tried shall be informed that, if he desires to object to any Juror, he must make his objection before the Juror is sworn. The names of the Jurors shall then be called aloud; and if, upon any challenge or objection either by the Government or the party to be tried, or for any other lawful cause, any Juror is not allowed to serve, or is exempted from serving, the Clerk of the Crown shall draw out another card or piece of parchment from the said box, and so on, until nine Jurors shall have been drawn who shall be allowed to serve.

Proceedings in case of deficient Jurors.

XX. If, by reason of absence, or disallowance on challenge, or any other cause, there be a deficiency of Jurors, the Court may command the Sheriff, or other Officer, to name or summon a sufficient number of persons to make up a full Jury, and the Sheriff, or other Officer, shall, at such command of the Court, return such men duly qualified to serve as shall be then present, or can be found to serve on such Jury, and the course of proceeding shall be the same as if their names had been returned in the panel and drawn by ballot under Rule XIX; provided that, in case of a Special Jury, the additional Jurors may be taken from the list of Common Jurors summoned to serve at the same Sessions if a sufficient number of Jurors qualified to serve as Special Jurors shall not be present in Court.

After every Session entry to be made against the name of each non-defaulting Juror.

XXI. After each Session the Clerk of the Crown shall make an entry in the List of Jurors opposite the names of those who shall have served at such Session or shall have been summoned to serve at such Session and shall not have made default, together with the date of service, or of the Session for which he shall have been summoned to serve.

Only persons on Common Jury List eligible to serve on Coroner's inquest, and, except in case of necessity, no Juror to be summoned again within twelve months.

XXII. No person shall be summoned to serve upon any inquest before a Coroner unless he is on the Common Jury List, nor, except in the case of necessity, within the period of twelve months after he shall have served on a Coroner's inquest or shall have been summoned to serve on a Coroner's inquest, and shall not have made default. The Coroner shall keep a copy of the Common Jury List, and shall enter therein the names of the persons who shall have served or been summoned to serve and not made default, and the date of the inquest at which such Juror shall have served or for which he shall have been summoned to serve. Dated this 10th May 1906.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FOURTH QUARTER OF 1905-1906.

No. 3341B., dated Calcutta, the 26th May 1906.

From—PANDIT RAMA BALLABHA MISRA, M.A., Offg. Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I AM directed to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the fourth quarter of the year 1905-1906, comprising the months of January, February and March 1906.

Member in charge :
THE HONBLE MR. W. C. MACPHERSON, ESQ., C.S.I.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter amounted to 23,66,672 maunds, as compared with 26,68,975 maunds in the previous quarter, and 25,23,814 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The net amount of duty levied thereon was Rs. 32,87,095, as against Rs. 35,79,211 in the previous quarter, and Rs. 44,37,557 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The subjoined Table I shows in detail the importations into the port of Calcutta and the total clearances of sea-imported salt during the quarter, as compared with the figures of the corresponding quarters of the two previous years :—

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PATENT OFFICE, DURING THE CALENDER YEAR 1905.

The 7th June 1906.—The following papers are published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 1687P., dated Calcutta, the 26th April 1906.

From—H. G. GRAVES, Esq., Secretary under the Inventions and Designs Act,
To—The Secy. to the Govt. of India, Dept. of Commerce and Industry.

I HAVE the honour to submit, for the information of the Government of India, the annual report of the Patent Office during the calendar year 1905.

2. The office has been in my charge during the year. Formerly it was under the direction of an officer who had other duties to perform, but a change was made in 1904 by the determination of the Government of India to appoint a whole-time officer with some knowledge of the working of the English Patent Law. A further change was made in February 1905 by the transfer of the office from the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, of which it had been a branch since 1888, to the newly formed Department of Commerce and Industry. Shortly afterwards, in May, the Secretary under the Inventions and Designs Act was appointed ex-officio to be Assistant Secretary to the Government of India in the new Department. The office was housed during the year in the Imperial Secretariat Buildings, but during the Christmas holidays it was removed to its present quarters at 2, Bankshall Street, Calcutta.

3. With more time than was previously at the disposal of the Patents Secretary, it has been found possible to introduce certain changes in practice and to bring forward preliminary propositions for the amendment of the Act and for printing specifications of inventions. The latter has been accepted, but the carrying of it into effect has been postponed until the major question of the Act has been more fully considered. The changes that have been made, however, though perhaps of minor importance, are intended to encourage the inventor and to protect both the inventor and the public. They have, it is believed, been received with approval. Interviews with the Patents Secretary are more freely accorded both to patent agents and inventors. Efforts have been made to obtain improved descriptions and drawings of inventions. In case the rejection of an application appears to be necessary under the Act, the applicant is afforded, in the majority of cases, an opportunity of showing cause for acceptance of his application in the original or in an amended form. Opponents to applications are also given an improved status by an offer to hear their objections in the presence of the applicant. Reminders are now issued for the payment of renewal fees ; from letters received in the office it would appear that they are appreciated and have avoided the lapse of several exclusive privileges through oversight by their holders. To facilitate the issue of these reminders, a card index has been adopted. These and other changes, of which the full effects will not appear until next year, though accompanied by a simplification in the routine work of the office in other respects, have entailed a considerable amount of work in which the staff has loyally co-operated.

4. During the year 1905 the number of applications for leave to file specifications reached 586 as compared with 552 in the previous year. The increase was 34, or 6 per cent., more than double that shown in 1904, and the advance has gone on steadily since the Act came into operation. In 1858 there were only 336 applications and the total number under the present Act has been 7,724. In the year under consideration, 214 applications were made by residents in India, 71 being filed by natives. The remaining 372 came from outside India, distributed as follows :—United Kingdom 197, United States of America 68, British Colonies 41, France 23, Germany 18, Switzerland 6, Belgium 5, Holland 3, Denmark 3, Sweden 2, Austria 2, Italy 1, Norway 1, and Russia 1. Local invention, it will be seen, does not bulk very largely in the total, but it shows a small increase, and it is very noteworthy that the marked increase of last year in the number of native inventors has been more than maintained.

5. As usual the range of inventions for which protection is sought covers nearly all the arts and industries, but the leading place is again taken by transport as was the case last year. The textile industries are also well to the fore. Up to the end of the year, however, the Swadeshi movement could hardly be expected to have much effect on the number of applications in the short time available, and, in fact, only one out of the four inventions for looms was devised by a native of India. Subsequent events have shown that the native is busy in this direction, and several applications for protection have been made for looms and their appurtenances. As this matter is of such particular interest at the moment, it may be of interest to consider specially the inventions made by Hindus and Muhammadans in this country. It was stated above that 71 applications were made during the year by them. Of these nine were concerned with methods of lifting water exclusive of five for sluices and modules, and eleven appertained more or less directly to lamps. Three applications were made in each of the following subjects:—ginning cotton, preparing fibre other than cotton, warping machines, road vehicles, sugarcane mills, hockey sticks. The following matters also formed subjects for one or two applications:—food, drink, disinfectant, road ramming machine, drying tea, hulling rice, fuel, oil-mill, hay press, wire ropeway, bicycle, perfume diffuser, latrine, brick kiln cigarette manufacture, windmill, harness, ink, lock nut, safe, curtain, loom, colour, chaff-cutter. Many of these alleged inventions are of the most elementary character and a reference to the history of the subject shows that more efficient means of an equally simple character were proposed long ago and abandoned in favour of more complicated machinery arranged to have automatic action and to be driven by power. This is especially true of textile machinery, and it becomes a serious question whether many of the recent proposals can really be considered as subject matter for valid patents.

6. Of the 586 applications made during the year, leave to file a specification was granted in 339 instances and refused in 25, whilst 10 were treated as abandoned and 112 were under or awaiting consideration on the 31st December 1905. The refusals, as will be seen in the annexed tables, were 7 fewer than in 1904 and 23 fewer than in 1903. This may be ascribed to the greater facilities now given to applicants for correcting their applications. To the same cause is mainly due the greater number, 112 as compared with 84, of applications on which orders had not been passed at the end of the year.

7. The number of references to experts, departmental and otherwise, has been reduced from 137 to 25 in view of the orders that such references were to be discontinued except in cases which were likely to affect native industries or which concerned the more ignorant classes of the population.

8. The number of specifications filed during the year was 467, a decrease of one as compared with the previous year. Of these, 203 were filed on applications made in 1904, and two on applications made in 1903, while the remainder, 262, were filed on applications made in the year under consideration. As the result of 7,724 applications under the present Act, 5,856 were filed and brought on the register up to the end of 1905. Detailed calculations, of which the results were given in the last report, showed that 80·1 per cent. of the total number of applications, or 88·4 per cent. of those on which leave was granted, are followed by specifications.

9. Exclusive privileges were kept alive by payment of prescribed fees in 552 cases, or 35 less than in the previous years, whilst 384, or 31 more than in 1904, ceased owing to non-payment of fees. Of the 5,856 specifications brought on the register, 2,305 are now in force, an increase of 73 as compared with 2,232 at the end of last year. The comparative age and number of these privileges for various years is shown in the appended table. The average life of a privilege is slightly over 6¼ years.

10. Applications for the registration of designs have fallen off again, only 15 being received as compared with 32 in 1904. Of these eight were refused or abandoned. Altogether 26 designs were registered, including 17 on applications held over for consideration from 1904.

11. Only one reference was made to the law officers during the year. Both in 1903 and 1904, three references were made.

12. The gross revenue for the year amounted to Rs. 54,766-12 as compared with Rs. 58,043-10 in 1904, a decrease of Rs. 3,276-14. No refunds were required as in the previous year, so that the total net income shows a decrease of only Rs. 2,995-1. On the face of it, this is not satisfactory, but it is accounted for by the exceptional amount of Rs. 6,300 paid in advance in March 1904 on account of continuance fees. In March 1905 only Rs. 2,650 was received, and the average monthly return under this heading is Rs. 2,760. That exceptional amount was really robbed from the year under consideration, and if it had been properly distributed 1905 would have shown a slight advance. I hope for better financial results when the reminders for the payment of continuance fees produce their full effect. In any case, however, the increase in the number of applications is very satisfactory.

13. The usual statistics are appended.

Statement showing (a) number of specifications filed; (b) privileges kept in force by payment of continuance fees to end of the 4th to the 14th years; (c) privileges expired through non-payment of continuance fees at commencement of the 4th to the 14th years.

NEW ZEALAND INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, 1906.

THE following papers are published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 7th June 1906.

Nos. 3917—3937-10, dated Simla, the 23rd May 1906.

RESOLUTION—By the Govt. of India, Dept. of Commerce and Industry.

THE following papers relative to the Exhibition, which will be held at Christ Church in New Zealand in November 1906, are published for general information The Government of India have decided not to participate in the Exhibition.

NOTICE.

The Government of New Zealand has decided to hold, during the summer of 1906-07, an International Exhibition

at Christ Church, Canterbury, New Zealand, in which all the nations of the world have been invited to participate. The object of the Exhibition is educational, and it is intended to demonstrate the resources and possibilities of the Colony as one of the world's food-producing factors; its vast mineral resources; and to draw attention to its unrivalled and varied scenery, thermal wonders, and also the exceptional opportunities offered to sportsmen;

And, further and specially to bring under the notice of the more industrial nations of the world the great field the Colony of New Zealand offers as an outlet for enterprise and for the use and consumption of all manner of up-to-date appliances, manufactures, etc.

New Zealand's imports.

Such an Exhibition should command the support and attention of all the manufacturing nations of the world, and, if taken advantage of, must accomplish tangible and satisfactory results. The Colony of New Zealand, being essentially a producing country, offers a splendid outlet for the manufactures of other countries which pay more attention to the development of manufacturing industries and whose industrial conditions and facilities are better adapted to the promotion and development of manufacturing.

The imports of the Colony for the past year (at least three-fourths of which are manufactured goods) amounted to £13,292,000 received from the following countries:—

Great Britain	7,982,000
Commonwealth of Australia	1,893,000
United States of America	1,528,000
Fiji Islands	167,000
Germany	309,000
India	290,000
Ceylon	173,000
Belgium	120,000
Canada and British Columbia	113,000
Japan	85,000
France	55,000
Singapore	37,000
Pacific Islands	30,000
Holland	29,000
China, including Hongkong	21,000
Italy	19,000
Asia Minor	17,000
Sweden	16,000
Greece	14,000
Phillipine Islands	10,000
Java	5,000
Other Countries	29,000
Total ...	13,292,000

When it is considered that this immense expenditure on imports is required for the use and consumption of a colony with a population of 850,000 persons, it can be readily understood what a rare opportunity there is for exploiting this Colony with up-to-date manufactures.

The properous condition of New Zealand and the equal distribution of wealth, places every one in a position to indulge in a fair degree of comfort, and anything in the way of an improvement in the existing conditions is welcomed and substantially supported. The sparsity of the population provides an exceptional market for all labour-saving machinery in every department of agricultural, pastoral, and domestic life.

These features of the possibilities of Exhibition are confidently placed before the more industrial nations of the world. Therefore manufacturers are urged to appoint representatives and to send such exhibits as will show the nature and finish of their work, and which are suitable for a colony which is progressing with almost unparalleled rapidity, and which has the keenest desire to adopt the most modern ideas and conveniences of advanced civilisation.

New Zealand as a food-producing country.

The resources and possibilities of the Colony of New Zealand as a food-producing country promise so much that it is without any apology that the Government desire to bring it under the notice of those interested in transporting, importing, and otherwise handling the food stuffs of the world.

It is only necessary to instance the rapid growth of the development of the NEW ZEALAND FROZEN-MEAT INDUSTRY and the splendid service of mammoth refrigerator steamers dependent thereon; the DAIRYING INDUSTRY, which has now reached proportions beyond the most optimistic expectations, and which is still only in its infancy. The fortnightly shipments of BUTTER AND CHEESE to London during the past season ranged from 1,500 to 2,000 tons, carried in one bottom.

New Zealand's raw materials.

As a market in which to procure supplies of raw materials, of quality unequalled in the world, our annual export of wool, hemp, skins and hides, kauri-gum, and coal have only to be mentioned to induce purchasers of these staples to attend and investigate the sources of production:

Wood	4,673,826	Hemp	710,281
Kauri-gum ...	501,817	Coal	139,898
Skins	444,821	Hides	53,431

New Zealand's mineral wealth.

The mineral wealth of this naturally endowed Colony is demonstrated by the continuous and increasing output of GOLD, which during the past fifty years has totalled in value the immense sum of £65,000,000.

In this industry alone there is an opening for investment which is not offered by any other part of the world under such secure conditions.

The surfaces of th golde-bearing parts of the Colony have only been "scratched over," and there are immense possibilities and discoveries awaiting enterprise combined with scientific and up-to date methods of prospecting with a view to tracing the supplies of GOLD to their original sources.

LARGE DEPOSITS OF IRON-SAND AND IRON-ORE are available within the Colony, and these await the enterprise and attention necessary to development; and, in convenient proximity, are THE COAL-MINES OF NEW ZEALAND, producing coal of quality equal to the best in the world, and for which an over-sea trade has yet to be initiated and developed.

New Zeland as a tourist resort.

As a resort for tourists and sportsmen, the Colony of New Zealand offers an interesting opportunity at a cost which compares favourably with similar opportunity in any other part of the world.

Deer-stalking,	Trout-fishing,	Alpine-climbing,
Geysers,	Hot and Cold Lakes,	Superb Mountain,
Scenery,	Sounds, Shooting,	Road and River Scenery, unsurpassed in the world, are available to every one who can find time to visit the Colony; and not necessarily only to wealthy people, because every attraction is available to people of ordinary means, on account of the moderate charges for travelling and accommodation, and for participation in the available sport.

Duty and freight.

Special arrangements will be made with the steamship companies trading to New Zealand whereby exhibitors will obtain special rates of freight on exhibits, and complete arrangements will be made for the reception and installation of exhibits on such lines as will protect exhibitors from any excessive charges.

The Exhibition buildings will be constituted a bonded warehouse for the time being. All goods sold will be plus duty, whilst all over-sea exhibits that may be returned can be reshipped free of duty.

The Exhibition grounds and buildings.

The grounds and buildings will be lighted by Electricity and Gas, and as electricity and lighting in almost every form will be a prominent feature of the Exhibition, every facility will be extended to exhibitors to display the latest developments and designs.

Each nation participating will be alloted a special court, irrespective of the class of exhibits shown, except in the case of artificial manures in bulk, and machinery in work requiring to be supplied with motive power.

These classes will be alloted separate buildings.

Arts and crafts.

Particular attention will be devoted to arts and crafts in actual operation and every reasonable facility will be given to exhibtors who desire to manufacture goods in the Exhibition.

Awards.

Awards in the form of diploma of gold and silver medals, according to merit, in each section, to exhibitors who desire to compete. These awards should prove of great value to successful firms, as care will be taken to select competent and unbiassed judges.

Railway and steamer concessions.

Special rates for coastal, over-sea, and Railway passenger fares will be arranged, so as to encourage the presence of visitors, and popular excursions will be promoted continuously to all the principal places of interest in the Colony. Every facility will be provided, not only to attend the Exhibition, but at the same time to visit the scenic, thermal, and other attractions in various parts of the Colony.

Costents and games.

International Band Contests,	Athletic Sports,
Bowling Tournaments.	Aquatic Sports.
Race Meetings and Regatas,	Cricket Matches,
Volunteer Encampments and Military Sports.	Polo Matches,
Fire Brigade Demonstrations and Sports,	Football Matches,
Agricultural and Pastoral and Stock Shows,	Golf Tournaments, will be arranged in suitable continuation during the progress of the Exhibition.

Educational competitions will also be instituted with a view to promote and illustrate progress in music and art.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from eve observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the New Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

No. 66 Marine.—The following revised regulations for the admission of locally selected candidates into the Bengal Pilot Service at Calcutta have been sanctioned by the Government of Bengal, in supersession of those sanctioned under notification No. 86 Marine, dated the 19th July 1904, and are published for general information :—

REGULATIONS FOR THE ADMISSION OF LOCALLY SELECTED CANDIDATES INTO THE BENGAL PILOT SERVICE AT CALCUTTA, CORRECTED UP TO JUNE 1906.

1 In any year in which a local candidate is to be appointed to the Bengal Pilot Service a competitive examination will be held in or about the month of March, and six months prior notice of the examination will be published by the Local Government. The number of vacancies available for local candidates shall also be declared, and they will be filled up by the successful candidates in order of merit; but no local candidate shall be appointed who does not satisfy the Examiners, or who in other respects does not come up to the requirements of the following rules.

2. Candidates must be not less than 18, or more than 22 years of age, and descended from European or Eurasian parents domiciled in India. They must produce a Board of Trade or Colonial Certificate of Competency as a 2nd Mate or any higher grade. Provided that an intending candidate who, in the month of March in any year in which no examination is held, is not more than 22 years of age, and has fulfilled the conditions of service laid down in Rule 4 below, shall not be debarred, on account of being over the prescribed age, from appearing at the next examination held.

3. Every candidate must produce a medical certificate of good health and physical fitness to work as a Pilot in a tropical climate, and also satisfactory evidence as to his moral character. Every passed candidate will, before appointment, be required to undergo a further examination as to his physical fitness by the Medical Board sitting at Calcutta, and will not be appointed unless the Board certifies him to be in all respects physically fit to work as a Pilot on the Hooghly.

4. He must have served at sea for four years in a merchant sailing vessel of not less than 300 tons register, employed in the foreign trade, as a seaman or apprentice, and must produce satisfactory certificates from the Masters he has sailed under.

5. Before being admitted to the examination, the candidate will have to satisfy the Examiners that he has passed the Middle Scholarship Examination under the Code of Regulations for European Schools, or that he has passed the Calcutta University Entrance Examination. Candidates will be examined in Navigation and Seamanship up to the standard of a 2nd Mate in the Merchant Service.

6. He will on being appointed to the service receive Rs. 100 per mensem.

7. A Leadsman Apprentice will go through such a course of training and pass such examinations as the Government of Bengal may from time to time prescribe. He will, whilst in this grade, receive a salary of from Rs. 100 to Rs. 150 a month, in accordance with the duty on which he is employed. He will also receive such share of the lead-money paid by the ships on which he does duty as may from time to time be fixed by the Government of Bengal.

8. After five years' service as a Leadsman Apprentice he will be allowed to go up for an examination to qualify for appointment as Mate Pilot, and, if successful, he will be promoted to that grade on the occurrence of a vacancy. While remaining as a Leadsman Apprentice, after passing this examination, he will receive a salary of Rs. 175 a month.

9. After three years' service as Mate Pilot, he will be permitted to go up for an examination to qualify for appointment as Master Pilot, and, if successful, he will be promoted to that grade on the occurrence of a vacancy

This rule does not apply to Mate Pilots who entered the service without a 2nd Mate's Certificate of Competency. Such officers will be required to serve four years as Mate Pilot before being eligible for permanent promotion.

10. Vacancies which occur in the grade of Branch Pilot will be filled up by promotion from the Master Pilots' grade, of men who have passed the Branch Pilots' examination.

11. Branch Pilots and Pilots who have passed the Branch Pilots' examination, will, while under 55 years of age, be examined at intervals of three years by the Marine Surgeon with respect to their eyesight and general physical fitness for the performance of their duties. All Pilots who continue in the service after attaining the age of 55 years will be similarly examined every year.

12 If the Local Government has reason to believe that a Pilot is, owing to physical unfitness of any kind, incapable of discharging his duties properly, it shall arrange for his medical examination, and shall take such action as may seem desirable when the results of that examination are communicated In particular, Pilots shall be medically examined after the occurrence of any accident to the vessels in their pilotage charge, if the circumstances tend to show that the accident was in any way attributable to physical unfitness on the part of the Pilot

13. Pilots are not entitled to any salary while on pilotage duty, but receive as their remuneration a share, at present 50 per cent, but liable to alteration at the discretion of the Government of Bengal, of the pilotage dues paid by ships piloted by them.

14. The Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right to require all Pilots to obtain a Home Trade Master Mariner's certificate before they are promoted to be Senior Master Pilots.

15. Every member of the Pilot Service is subject to such rules as the Government of India, or as the Government of Bengal under the control of the Government of India, may from time to time respectively make in regard to discipline, leave, leave allowances, number of officers in the service, distribution into grades, tonnage of ships to be allotted to the several grades, etc., and in all respects he is amenable to such orders as may be passed by the Government of Bengal, and is liable to degradation, suspension and dismissal, by the Government of Bengal, for any breach of such rules or orders, or for misconduct.

16. The principal leave and pension rules at present in force are contained in Chapter XXXIII of the Civil Service Regulations, fourth edition, and are summarised in Chapters XXXI and XXXII of the Code of Regulations for the Bengal Pilot Service; but it is to be understood that the rules are subject to alteration at the discretion of the Government of India Pilots are required to contribute towards the cost of pensions for their widows and orphans under rules which will be found in the chapter of the Civil Service Regulations quoted above.

A cast of the lead gave no bottom at 100 fathoms in the ship's position, but this apparent danger was not further examined. Its existence must therefore be considered doubtful, but "discoloured water reported" has been placed on the chart.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Pacific, No. 780; New Hebrides islands, &c., No. 3033: Also Pacific Islands, vol. II, 1900, page 399; and Supplement, 1903, page 20.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MAY 1906.

The month of May has been characterised, as will be seen below, by deficient rainfall and marked oscillations of pressure and temperature above the normal. At the beginning of the month a trough of low pressure along the Himalayas seems to have dominated the winds at the head of the Bay, and it was not till the end of the first week that the westerly motion of this low pressure area gave a more southerly direction to the winds and allowed moist air from the Bay to penetrate into Bengal. As a consequence of this change, general rain fell in Lower Bengal and Assam during the course of the second week, and in the third week the area of precipitation extended into Bihar and Chota Nagpur. A rapid fall of temperature was associated with the rainfall in Bengal, Chota Nagpur, Bihar and Orissa, the deficiency reaching about 12° in Bihar on the 19th of the month. In the south of the Bay conditions assumed a slightly threatening aspect owing to the formation of a shallow depression off Madras on the 15th of the month. This area of low pressure, however, after remaining stationary for two or three days slowly diffused without exercising any marked influence on the weather in the Bay. During the latter portion of the month the most striking features were the abnormally low pressure at the head of the Bay, steep gradient to the south, accompanied by a premature northward advance of the monsoon conditions. There was evidence of the formation of a depression in front of the advancing current, and on the 27th the cautionary signal was hoisted in the river ports. The disturbance in question was not a serious one, but its existence appears to be substantiated by the Commander of the vessel Zibenghla, who reported having passed through a small regular cyclone in Lat 70° N. and Long. 90° 30′ E. on the 27th. The depression filled up rapidly on the 27th, possibly drifting in an eastward direction into Lower Burmah, where heavy rain was reported. The same conditions, viz, low pressure at the head of the Bay and the steep gradient, prevailed to the end the month.

Summary of Pressure.—Pressure at the end of the month was in general excess, except along a narrow strip to the north of the Province. The earlier part of the month was marked by oscillations of pressure of fairly large amplitude to the north of the area under report, the barometer standing about one-tenth of an inch above normal on the 7th of the month and falling to a tenth of an inch below normal on the 9th. On the 17th a very rapid rise of the barometer occurred in Bengal, and this was followed by a gradual fall during the next few days, when the pressure became normal once more. Pressure was at this point very uniform over the Bay, but from the 24th onwards the gradient commenced to get steeper. This was caused mainly by the steady fall of the barometer over the north of the area under report, which continued till the end of the month, leaving an abnormally heavy defect, which reached as much as a quarter of an inch at Akyab.

Summary of Temperature.—Mean temperature has again been in general excess by small amounts during the greater part of the month. The average mean of the month was about normal in Assam and East Bengal and above normal at the other Meteorological Divisions. Maxima of over 114° were recorded in South-West Bengal, Bihar, Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

Summary of Rainfall.—Rainfall has been in general defect throughout the whole Province. Broadly speaking, the defect has been greater in Chota Nagpur and South Bihar, the districts of Gaya, Patna and Shahabad recording less than 40 per cent. of the normal amount for the month, and Hazaribagh, Palamau and Manbhum recording less than 50 per cent In Sambalpur one-tenth of an inch only fell during the whole month. Jessore, Darbhanga and Monghyr were the only districts in the Province which received more than the normal amount. Little or no rain fell till the 10th of the month, except in Darjeeling and Thibet. In South-West Bengal rain was fairly general from the 10th to the 21st, when it diminished somewhat. In Orissa and Chota Nagpur scattered rain fell from the 10th to the end of the month. The greater part of the rain, which fell in Bihar and Bhagalpur, occurred between the 17th and the 24th.

The following table gives full data for comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of May for all districts of the Province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-reporting stations in each district. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the observations of past years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the actual rainfall of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third in a slightly different form, stating as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

t, thunder; ≤, lightning; p, passing temporary showers; d, drizzling rain; o, overcast; /, strong wind.

PLAGUE REGUALTION F.

The 23rd June 1906.

IN exercise of the powers conferred by section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897, and by the notification of the Government of India in the Home Department No. 302, dated the 4th February 1897, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to prescribe the following rules for preventing the spread of plague and other dangerous epidemic disease by persons travelling by river steamer within the territories under the administration of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

1. (1) Whenever any case of plague, small-pox or cholera occurs on board a river steamer, the Medical officer of the steamer or, where there is no such Medical officer, the serang shall immediately—

(a) remove the patient, together with his bedding, drinking utensils and food, to a part of the deck at the extreme stern of the steamer, where he shall be segregated from the rest of the passengers by a purdah or awning;

(b) cause all excreta, vomit and urine which may have been discharged on to the deck by the patient to be cleaned away with a solution of phenyle; and (c) report the case to the Subdivisional or District Magistrate within whose jurisdiction the nearest ghat lies, and also to the Civil Surgeon of the district.

(2) Where such ghat is not at the head-quarters of a subdivision or district, the report mentioned in sub-clause (c) of clause (1) shall be sent by the Medical officer of the steamer, or the serang, as the case may be, by the most expeditious means available to the next head-quarters of a subdivision or district at which the steamer will touch.

2. If, when the case occurs, the steamer is lying at a ghat at the head-quarters of a subdivision or district, or otherwise, when the steamer has reached the nearest ghat which is at such head-quarters, the serang shall not move the steamer therefrom until permission has been given by the District or Subdivisional Magistrate, or by the Medical officer under rule 8.

3. (1) On receipt of the report mentioned in rule 1 the Magistrate or Civil Surgeon shall at once depute a Medical officer to inspect and disinfect the steamer.

(2) Such Medical officer shall visit the steamer, and if a suitable hospital is available, or if other satisfactory arrangements can be made for his treatment and segregation, shall bring the patient to land.

4. Where no such hospital is available and no such arrangement can be made the patient shall not be allowed to land, but the Medical officer deputed under rule 3 shall take steps to ensure the proper segregation of the patient on the steamer and to satisfy himself that every possible precaution has been taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

5. The Medical officer deputed under rule 3 shall in all cases cause the deck, cabins, latrines and any other part of the steamer where the patient has been to be thoroughly washed down with a strong solution of phenyle, and all utensils which have been used by the patient to be disinfected.

6. (1) In case of death, the body of the patient shall be made over to his friends, or where he is without friends to the police, who shall arrange for its disposal.

(2) The clothes of the deceased (except those in his baggage), his bedding and all food in his possession shall be burnt unless orders to the contrary are passed by the Medical officer.

7. The Medical officer deputed under rule 3 shall ascertain the names and addresses of all members of the party accompanying the patient, and shall report them through the Magistate to the Magistrate of the district to which they are proceeding.

8. When the orders contained in these rules have been complied with, and the Medical officer deputed under rule 3 is satisfied that there is no reason further to detain the steamer, he may give permission to the serang to proceed on the journey.

9. The owner of every steamer shall be bound to keep on board each steamer a two-gallon drum of phenyle.

10. The patient may be permitted to land on the expiry of a period to be fixed by the Medical officer deputed under rule 3.

Every candidate for admission to this Department must apply in writing to the Principal not later than the 14th July. The form of application for a nomination, which must be addressed to the Principal, is given in Appendix B. In the event of the form not being properly filled up and accompanied by the necessary certificates, no notice will be taken of the application.

The number to be nominated each year will depend on the accommodation available.

Every applicant, not already a student of the College, must undergo a medical examination by the College Surgeon before admission to this Department. If this officer's report is unsatisfactory, the applicant will not be admitted.

The session begins on the first Monday in November. All students are required to join the College on that day. Any student prevented by sickness from attending on the opening day must produce a certificate to that effect from a Civil or Assistant Surgeon, failing which he will be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10. No student will be admitted or re-admitted to the College after the month of November, except by special orders of the Director of Public Instruction. Also that the black buoy with a conical topmark, marking Brunda shoal, is moored on the southern side, and not on the northern side of that shoal as shown on the chart.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON EMIGRATION FROM THE PORT OF CALCUTTA TO BRITISH AND FOREIGN COLONIES FOR THE YEAR 1905.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EMIGRATION.

Darjeeling, the 18th June 1906.

RESOLUTION—No. 946 T.—G.

READ—

The Annual Report on Emigration from the Port of Calcutta to British and Foreign Colonies for the year 1905.

No administrative measures of any importance were adopted by this Government during the year under review. The Governments of Natal and Jamaica, however, amended the laws in those Colonies relating to Indian immigrants. The amendments made are not of sufficient importance to require specific mention. Information was received from the Emigration Agent for Mauritius that the rate of wages payable in the Colony to indentured adult male immigrants had been raised from Rs. 5 rising in five years to Rs. 7, to Rs. 6 rising in five years to Rs. 8.

2. Seven emigration agencies were at work during the year, of which six represented British Colonies and one the Dutch Colony of Surinam. The total number of emigrants registered was 15,296, being an increase of 5,019 over the number registered in 1904. The bad harvests and the consequent rise in the price of food-grains in the recruiting districts contributed to this result. As usual, recruitment was most active in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, from which 76·39 per cent. of the emigrants came; Cawnpore, Fyzabad, and Basti supplying the largest number. Fifteen thousand three hundred and fifty-two emigrants were accommodated in sub-depôts during the year, of whom 2,296 were rejected, which was a larger number than in the previous two years. This fact points to the exercise of more care in the medical inspections conducted up-country. Twelve thousand two hundred and ninety-six persons arrived at the Calcutta depôts, but the number was reduced by rejections, releases, and other causes to 9,943. Of these, 9,322 were shipped during the year and 621 were left for subsequent despatch. The figures show an increase in comparison with those for 1904, when 7,451 persons were accommodated in the Calcutta depôts and 7,135 actually took ship to the Colonies. In 1903 the number who embarked was 9,084 and in 1904 it was 10,882.

The sanitary arrangements of the depôts at Garden Reach were satisfactory throughout the year, and the intending emigrants were well cared for.

3. The demand for labour increased, 8,157 immigrants being requisitioned as against 7,501 in the previous year. This was partly due to the fact that recruitment for Jamaica, which had been suspended in 1904, was resumed in 1905, 790 emigrants being despatched to that Colony. The number of labourers supplied was 8,933, or 776 more than the demand. This year there was less difficulty in securing labour owing to scarcity in the recruiting districts. The Colonies which received the largest number of emigrants were Demerara (2,605) and Trinidad (2,285).

4. The accounts of the Emigration Fund show that the year closed with a surplus balance of Rs. 1,778-11-8. This surplus is due partly to the increase of receipts on account of the larger number of emigrants embarked during the year, and partly to the inclusion in the receipts of the sum of Rs. 3,283-8-5, which represents the unclaimed estates of deceased emigrants.

5. During the year 4,703 immigrants returned to India, bringing with them savings amounting in the aggregate to Rs. 8,08,141-2-4, or, on an average, to Rs. 171-13-4 a head, as compared with Rs. 174-10 a head in the preceding year. It is noteworthy that the percentage of money saved in Trinidad is far in excess of anything saved in any other Colony. One thousand and seventy-eight adults brought back no savings. As in previous years, the labourers in Natal sent the largest remittances by money-order, the total amount so sent being nearly 14 lakhs.

6. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Banks for his careful administration and report. This officer acted as Protector of Emigrants throughout the year, with the exception of one month when he was on leave.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

T. W. RICHARDSON,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1905.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT—POLICE.

Dated Darjeeling, the 22nd June 1906.

RESOLUTION—No. 1072P.—D.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Police Administration of the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs for the year 1905.

Read also—

The Reports for the two previous years and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

The office of the Commissioner of Police was filled by Mr. R. A. D'O. Bignell from the 1st of January to the 20th of April, when he went on leave. He was subsequently compelled by the state of his health to retire. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his regret at Mr. Bignell's retirement and to convey the thanks of this Government for his valuable services. Mr. F. L. Halliday, who had been officiating during his absence, was confirmed with effect from the 14th December. The Commissioner had the advantage of the assistance of Mr. F. C. T. Halliday, who officiated as Deputy Commissioner during eight months of the year and who was after that confirmed as Deputy Commissioner. In August 1905, the scheme for the reorganization of the Calcutta Police was sanctioned by the Government of India. This is now being gradually introduced. Some of the chief reforms that have so far been effected are the increase of the minimum pay of Native Constables and that of the European Constables, now called Sergeants; the increase in the numbers of Sergeants, Native Constables and of Native Officers, who are now called Head Constables; and the abolition of the system of making deductions from the pay of members of the force on account of the Superannuation Pension Fund, Government having undertaken to pay all pensions and gratuities from general revenues. The total strength of the staff has also been slightly increased.

2. The morale of the force appears to be improving. There were fewer dismissals and departmental punishments than last year. The number of members of the force judicially punished has also fallen from 18 to 10 (1 officer and 9 men). It is satisfactory to note that the number of resignations without pension or gratuity has fallen from 321 to 286. Doubtless this is due to the improved prospects of the Police, but some explanation should be forthcoming for the increase in the number of desertions from 50 to 94. Allowing for the increase in the strength of the force, the numbers of the Police, both officers and men, who can read and write, compare favourably with those of last year.

3. There has been a decrease of about 1,500 in the number of true cognizable cases reported direct to the Police and instituted on complaint to a Magistrate. The falling off relates mainly to cases of public nuisances and offences against the Town and Suburban Police Acts during the last four months of the year—a time of considerable public excitement and numerous strikes, when the Police had their hands full of other miscellaneous duties. There has been little fluctuation in the number of cases tried under the Penal Code. It is curious that the decrease in the number of burglaries in the town of Calcutta is almost exactly counterbalanced by the increase in the suburbs. It is reported that this increase, to which attention was drawn last year, is due to the influx of up-country coolies to various works going on in the suburbs. The number of non-cognizable cases instituted shows an increase from 13,859 in 1904 to 15,349 in 1905, of which 9,706 ended in conviction.

4. The percentage of convictions in cases tried by the Presidency Magistrates was high, namely, 84 as compared with 80 and 99 of the two preceding years. The High Court tried 59 cases, and the Alipore Sessions Court 32; 52 and 27 of these cases, respectively, ended in conviction. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank the Honorary Magistrates for the valuable assistance rendered by them in the disposal of magisterial business, sometimes at the cost of much personal inconvenience.

5. The Bengal Police, the Calcutta Police and Mr. Knyvett are to be congratulated on the good work done in connection with the investigation and prosecution of the gang of forgers who had for years been perpetrating a series of frauds by means of forged Government Promissory Notes on well-known banks. Professional crime has been adequately dealt with : 308 bad characters and 102 receivers of stolen property were prosecuted and convicted. Three gang cases were prosecuted during the year, two of which ended in conviction, while the third is still pending.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to note that vigorous steps are being taken to prosecute fraudulent firms or companies. The principle of having cases against such firms tried in the district where the complainant and the witnesses live will no doubt tend to cause persons who have been defrauded by these bogus firms to come forward with their complaints.

7. The increasing use by Magistrates of section 562 of the Criminal Procedure Code is satisfactory. Sixty-two first offenders were released on probation under this section as compared with 38 of the preceding year. Twenty-seven juvenile offenders were sent to the Reformatory.

8. The system of recording finger-impressions for the purposes of identification continued to give excellent results. The accused were identified in 984 cases by this means as against 917 in 1904 and 897 in 1903. Thirty-two notorious offenders and bad characters were also photographed on release from jail.

9. The figures relating to motor-cars are interesting. One hundred and thirteen private motor-cars and 23 cycles were registered, and 263 drivers' licenses were issued under the Motor Car and Cycle Act during the year. There were four accidental deaths caused by motor-cars, but in each case the driver was exonerated at the inquest from culpable negligence.

10. During the latter part of the year the general unrest, due to the agitation in connection with the partition of Bengal, had to be watched carefully in order to prevent acts likely to disturb the public peace or to interfere with the liberties of others. Sir Andrew Fraser has already intimated his appreciation of the manner in which the officers and men discharged their duties in keeping the peace on the 16th of October.

11. In December Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales visited Calcutta. The management and conduct of the enormous crowds that visited the metropolis gave the Police a very considerable additional amount of work. Their Royal Highnesses intimated their gracious appreciation of the work done, and Sir Andrew Fraser personally distributed gold and silver tokens to all Superintendents, Inspectors and Sergeants as a memento of the visit, and further sanctioned the distribution of a monetary reward to all Head Constables and Constables who were on duty. Mr. F. L. Halliday, the Commissioner of Police, has also been made a Member of the Victorian Order.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank the Commissioner of Police, his colleagues and his subordinates for the good work done by them in the course of the year, and again to express his appreciation of their excellent work as well as that of the other officers attached to the Calcutta Police during the visit of Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales. The names of those officers who have been specially mentioned have been noted.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta, the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, and the Municipal Department of this Government for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. W. CARLYLE,
Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Distress is reported in parts of Jessore Cattle-disease is reported from eight districts. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in ten districts and fallen in one. The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; t, thunder; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers.
